

Alumni Will Launch Fund Drive Jan. 23

Dan Koukol, Omaha attorney, will serve as chairman of the 1953 Fund Drive of the University of Omaha Alumni Association. Alums will launch the drive Jan. 23.

This was announced at Monday night's meeting of the Association Board of Directors. The Board also amended Association by-laws to abolish membership dues. This automatically makes all former OU students members of the Association.

Alum President Charles V. Ammons stressed that only alums will be asked to contribute to the Fund Drive. Money collected will be used for Association activities and to aid University development. The Drive replaces past campaigns for membership dues.

'Life Begins'

"Life Begins at 40" is the Fund Drive slogan. The Association, now in its fortieth year, hopes to expand its services as a result of the drive.

Koukol, a former Student Council president, graduated from the University in 1949. He received his law degree from Nebraska University in 1952.

Workers Contact Alums

Alums will be notified of the Drive by mail, Koukol said. Later, local alumni will be contacted by campaign workers.

"The change in membership requirements permits all former students to receive alumni publications and other Association services," President Ammons pointed out.

Membership cards will be mailed to the 5,000 former students for whom the OU Alumni Office had addresses. Alumni officials have invited "lost" alumni to send their addresses to the Association office.

Musical Comedy Tryouts Continue

Tryouts started last night for "Anything Goes." They will be held again tonight and tomorrow night in the auditorium.

Members of the student-faculty committee in charge of the show stressed that all students are eligible to try out for parts in the musical comedy.

Although the plot of the play will be followed, specialty acts using available student material will be inserted in the play.

Tryouts run from 7 to 9 p. m.

Faculty directors include Dr. Edwin L. Clark, Dr. Robert Fiestor and Richard Brewer. Student Council members Syntha Judd, Marilyn Sibert and Irvin Jones complete the committee. They will choose all material and cast members.

Dr. Clark said that the plot "can use all talent from jugglers to mimics, singers, dancers, musicians and comedians."

The production will be given Feb. 20 and 21 in the University auditorium.

State Music Teachers Elect Fiestor President

Dr. Robert W. Fiestor has been elected president of the Nebraska State Music Teachers Association. Dr. Fiestor is director of instrumental music at the University.

The Nebraska Association has been inactive since the Second World War. An affiliate of the Music Teachers National Association, its members are primarily private and college music teachers.

Dan Koukol . . . will head 1953 alumni fund drive.

Literary Magazine Sells in Bookstore

The second edition of "Grain of Sand," student literary magazine, went on sale in the bookstore yesterday. Bookstore manager Ben Koenig said the price is 45 cents, equaling the price of the first issue printed last spring.

Dr. Robert Harper, faculty adviser, and Phyllis Brisby, chairman of the student editorial board, said that there are 10 contributors to this issue of the magazine.

Members of the editorial board included Mrs. Brisby, Anne McConney, Marianne Yates, Charles Murray and Amos Turnbow.

University Offers Five New Programs for Next Semester

Five new programs of study will be available at the University next semester. Two of the courses are in the College of Applied Arts and Sciences, while the others are in the Arts and Sciences, Education and Business Administration.

The new programs are designed to fill a need for special training extended over four college years.

The Applied Arts curriculum has been broadened to include majors in home economics who specialize in either journalism or retailing.

Combined home ec

The home economics-journalism course combines foods, nutrition and demonstration courses with basic courses in writing. The home economics-retailing course includes clothing, design, tailoring, interior decoration and demonstration techniques with principal retaining courses.

The Arts and Sciences College is offering a new major in foreign languages for Inter-American trade. It has been planned to satisfy the need for students who are planning careers in the field of trade among the Americas.

Dual certificate

Candidates will follow general requirements for the arts degree. Specific requirements include six hours of basic Portuguese and 18 hours of advanced Spanish, plus business training in foreign trade and the Latin American countries.

A dual certification curriculum has been added to the College of Education. The program was introduced to allow individuals to be certified to teach both elementary and secondary grades. The dual certificate is valid in Nebraska and Iowa for grades four through 12.

Seniors Plan '53 Activity

The class of 1953 is getting an early start on plans and arrangements for the dinner, dance and commencement activities.

President Aksel Schmidt announced that total fees for the graduating seniors are $15.50. The class members voted for an assessment of $5.50 to pay for the class gift, dinner, dance, favors and flowers.

The Business Office will collect the $10 for cap and gown, and diploma. Cards will be sent to each senior to notify him of the deadline for payment of this fee.

All June graduates and those seniors graduating in August who want to attend the senior activities must pay the special assessment fee to Syntha Judd before April 1.

The senior banquet will be held May 28 at the Röm Hotel. Eddy Haddad will play for the annual senior dance following the banquet. Donna Edstrand is chairman of the dance committee.

Senior pictures are now being taken at Skoglund Studio. All seniors who have not been contacted for picture appointments should report to the Tomahawk office. Senior activity cards for the Tomahawk senior section must be filled out immediately.

Seniors Must Set Photograph Dates

Tomahawk editor Larry Boersma issued a call for seniors who have not had their pictures taken or do not have appointments for today. Those who want their pictures in the senior section and have not had picture appointments must see Boersma today.

The Tomahawk editor also asked that all seniors return their proofs immediately to the Tomahawk office in the Student Publications quarters.

Registration Continues In Day, Night School

Registration for second semester day and night school classes began yesterday in the Registrar's office. The advanced registration period will run through Friday for day classes.

OU Shows Large Enrollment Boost

The University enrollment showed a much greater increase during the fall semester than most of the nation's universities and colleges. Registrar Alice Smith reported a 14 per cent increase in enrollment. This is compared to a 1.5 per cent national average.

The increase was attributed to the new Air Force ROTC program, returning Korean veterans and the new student nursing programs.

Total enrollment in day and night school is 3,394 students, compared to 3,101 in the fall of 1951.

Educators Will Meet For County Workshop

A Workshop Conference for County School Superintendents will be held at the University Jan. 26 through 30. Superintendents from six states will participate in the meeting.

Conference leaders include Dr. Frank H. Gorman, dean of the College of Education, and several faculty members.

Guest leaders include Dr. C. O. Fitzwater, U. S. Office of Education; Olive S. Berg, South Dakota Department of Public Instruction, and Freeman B. Decker, Nebraska State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Placement Office Sends Job Info

Omaha U's Placement Office has begun to contact seniors concerning job possibilities this year.

Placement Director John E. Woods and his staff have mailed information to members of the class of '53. Several jobs have already been suggested with various companies.

Woods said that all seniors are urged to fill out applications, together with photographs, in the placement as soon as possible.

Woods also cautioned that applicants should be sure to use recent photographs, which do not look like they came from the lineup.

The Registrar's office is open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. for day and night class registration. Evening registration runs from 5:30 to 8:30 p. m. for night classes only.

Miss Smith reminded students that they must sign up for classes in physical education and English composition in the department before completing registration in her office. "This will eliminate the confusion of section changes when classes begin," Miss Smith said.

More than 1,100 students picked up registration material last week. The Registrar urged all students to see their counselors and complete registration this week. If registration is not completed this week, students must wait until Jan. 29 and 30, when new students will register.

Classes in day and night school will begin Monday, Feb. 2. Fees must be paid by noon, Jan. 31. A late fee of three dollars will be charged during the first week of the semester. One dollar a week will be charged for each successive week.

Miss Smith stressed that "careful consideration in making out schedules will save time for the student, counselor and the Registrar's office."

OU Will Sponsor Journalism Clinic, Vocations Week

The journalism department and the University Press Club will sponsor the fourth annual High School Journalism Clinic Jan. 22. During the same week, they will hold a Vocations Week in Journalism.

Exhibits concerning several phases of journalism will be shown in Room 209 Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 20 through 22.

High school students from Omaha, Council Bluffs and the surrounding area will attend panel discussions, conferences, a vocations seminar and a banquet.

Each high school has submitted student material for judging. Winners will receive certificates at the banquet. The material has been judged by professional journalists in Omaha and Council Bluffs.

Clifford Ellis, journalism instructor, and Bill Beindorff, president of the Press Club, are in charge of the combined events.

Principal speaker at the banquet will be Ray Clark director of special events at Station WOW.

Exhibits for vocations including the 60 best high school pictures, engravings, yearbooks and printing.

Student Teachers Must Apply Now

Dr. Frank H. Gorman, dean of the College of Education, requests to all students who plan to register for student teaching during second semester apply immediately.

Application forms may be secured from Dr. Gorman's office, Room 288, or from one of three student teaching directors. They are Frances E. Wood, kindergarten-primary, Room 371A; Frances Holliday, elementary, Room 371B, and Harold H. Wood, secondary, Room 373B.

All student applications must be completed before registration.

'53 Revue Grows Up

The Tom-Tom Revue is growing up. When the Revue was first presented in 1946, it consisted of vaudeville acts. Since then it has grown into a locally written musical comedy to this year's professional Broadway musical comedy of "Anything Goes."

The vaudeville-type Revue was at its height during 1947 and '48.

Directed by Harold Poff and Joe Baker, the '47 Tom-Tom Revue was presented to a crowd of over one thousand in two performances. The World-Herald proclaimed it "as smart a college comedy as this city has ever seen."

In '48 the show was a conglomeration of "holocaust and chaos." Fireworks, explosions, intentional interruptions in the audience, a band that couldn't follow the music, people climbing ladders to the balcony and a mock marriage ceremony spiced that year's Revue.

Vaudeville reigned until last year's show, "Audrey." The '52 Revue was a three act musical comedy with original dialogue and musical score written by Berk Forsythe and Rolly Klopfeisch. "Audrey" was the first attempt to weave the Revue into a show with a plot.

Cole Porter's "Anything Goes" is a light musical comedy. The 1953 talent show will have the framework of this professional musical comedy with student singers, actors and specialty acts fitting into the show.

Student talent from jugglers to mimics, singers, dancers, musicians and comedians will be used in the Revue production. "Anything Goes" can be revised to include almost any type of act, and yet provide a professional continuity to the show.

"Anything Goes" will be presented Feb. 20 and 21 in the auditorium.

AF-ROTC $$$ Lost; Reordered by Staffmen

If you walk down the wet halls of OU, you may hear a pitiful plea for "Alms for the love of the AF-ROTC."

Don't move on without dropping a coin or two into the poor beggar's cup . . . he needs it. It seems that the entire advanced class in AF-ROTC fell heir to the complexities of the government mail service.

The shoulder-boarded boys have been waiting for over a month to get paid by the Air Force for ROTC service. The token stipends, over $80 for three months in the advanced program, got lost in the mail.

In order to get any money, each first year advanced student had to sign no less than five copies of a contract and one copy of the pay roll. Since this request was lost, the staff required each four-button roller to sign six more copies of the contract and another of the pay roll so that the money could be reordered.

Who knows . . . perhaps in some far flung African air force base a newly-commissioned shavetail from Omaha U will be some $80 richer through the kindness of a tardy Uncle Sam.

Anglers Tell Fish Stories; Ron Adwers Hooks Marlin

A big fish story is being told around campus by Ron Adwers. He says he caught a 121-pound blue marlin during Christmas vacation and has a certificate to prove the story.

Adwers, who went deep-sea fishing with his parents Dec. 22 at Mazatlan, Mexico, caught the eight-foot fish after 35 minutes of struggle. Experienced crew members directed the landing of the marlin.

The deep-sea fisherman explained he tempted the fish by baiting the "extra-big" hook with a foot-long mullet. The hook, sewed inside the bait, was dragged behind the boat. The marlin swam up to the mullet, tapped it with his sword to "kill" it and then swallowed it. Once the mullet had been swallowed, the marlin was hooked.

Adwers let out 250 yards of line for the marlin to play with. Then, instead of pulling it in, the boat was backed up to the fish. Crewmen killed the marlin by reaching over the side of the boat and striking it with a lead pipe. The catch was hauled aboard with heavy ropes.

His first experience at deep-sea fishing, Adwers was given the 15-inch sword from the fish and a card from the boat captain certifying that he had caught the marlin. Adwers shows the card to "untrusting friends."

Ron Adwers and catch . . . a 35-minute struggle.

Cooper Lands Grouper Off Florida Coast

Fishing off the coast of St. Petersburg, Fla., Bill Cooper caught a black grouper during Christmas vacation.

The fish, weighing 19 pounds and measuring three and one-half feet long, was landed with an ocean rod and reel. Cooper hauled the catch aboard in ten minutes after the fish had taken the bait sixty feet below the water's surface.

Not his first deep-sea fishing experience, the grouper is his largest catch.

O. U. Home Record Under Fire

Indians Entertain Redmen Tonight; Emporia Thursday

Still unbeaten on the home court this season, Coach Virg. Yelkin's cagers will play host tonight to Simpson College of Indianola, Ia. First-year Omaha fans have yet to see their team lose this season, as Coach Lloyd Cardwell's grid team raced through a five-game home schedule without a loss, and the Omaha U. hoopsters have taken four straight before the local rooters.

Redmen Improved

But the victory string will be under fire tonight, as they tackle a strong Simpson five. Reports say that the Redmen are an improved team compared to last year when OU dropped them twice. Last season Omaha journeyed to Indianola for an easy 65-52 win, but the Iowans threw a scare into the Indians before bowing 55-53 in the return engagement.

Coach Yelkin must have his hoopsters in top shape tonight as the Simpson squad plays a fast, running brand of ball.

Mackie Stars

The "Injuns" will not only be trying to keep the home slate clean tonight, they will be trying to bounce back into the win column after a 66-64 setback at Peru, Saturday.

Bob Mackie probably won back his starting guard position with his Peru performance. The ex-Tech High star returned to his old form and meshed 17 points to pace the Omaha attack.

OU could be able to throw a balanced scoring five at the Redmen tonight. At Peru, Mackie, Lee Nelson and Don Claussen all hit for 15 points or better. Bob Rose also tossed in 13 for the Omahans.

High Scorers

With these four stalwarts, Coach Yelkin can put either Bob Moscrey or Fred Shinrock to round out a high scoring quintet. Both Moscrey and Shinrock had "off" nights at Peru, but both are high scoring threats.

Moscrey proved this when he led the OU cause against Iowa Central with 13 counters. Shinrock, who is recovering from a broken toe suffered before Christmas, led game scoring many times last season.

Emporia Next

Proving the Omaha cage team gets by the Simpson hurdle, their record will be challenged by an invading Emporia Teachers crew from Emporia, Kans., Thursday.

Coach Darrell Mudra's Papoose team will entertain the Offutt AFB team in the preliminary tilt at 6:00 p. m.

Probable starting lineups for tonight:

F—Don Claussen.
F—Bob Rose.
C—Lee Nelson.
G—Bob Moscrey or Fred Shinrock.
G—Bob Mackie.

OU Airmen Stop Creighton Soldiers

Omaha University's AF-ROTC rifle team won honor for Omaha U. and the Air Force last Wednesday as they completely outclassed Creighton University's Army ROTC marksmen by over 100 points.

Only one of the Creighton sharpshooters fired a score better than any of the Indian deadeyes. Sal Ciculla, Bluejay high man, fired a 357 total, but had to take a back seat to Omaha's Frank Sedlacek, high man for both teams with a 372 total.

The riflemen were firing for a possible perfect score of 400 points.

Indian riflemen were forced to fire without the services of regular team member Don Olson. Olson is ill in a hospital and isn't expected to return to team action until the mid-state match in February.

The OU team has also completed firing record scores for the William Randolph Hearst Trophy Match. However, the scores cannot be revealed until they have been matched with scores from other competing teams.

The scores have been sent to Air Force Headquarters.

Peru Nudges OU

Accuracy from the free throw line in the final minute played dividends as Peru State Teachers nosed Omaha University 66-64 last Saturday on the Bobcat maples.

The Indian loss evened the series as the Omahans copped a 45-40 win in early December. Omaha's slate now stands at five wins and three defeats.

Lowe Shines

Unsung Al Lowe was the man of the hour for Peru with four crucial gift tosses in the last minute of play that thwarted a valiant effort by the Indians.

Trailing 48-41 at the start of the fourth quarter, OU fought back to tie 49-49, but from that point on, the Bobcats were always one jump ahead.

Baskets by Tom Mosiman and Bob Mackie kept Omaha within two points in the waning seconds, but the final gun nullified Mosiman's one hander that would have sent the game into overtime.

Omaha Surges

Peru outplayed the Indians in the initial period to lead 15-10, but the Red and Black displayed a scoring attack of their own in the second canto. Mackie and Don Claussen pepped OU to a 32-29 halftime margin.

Mackie came off the bench in the first quarter and exhibited his usual finesse at meshing points and ultimately led Omaha scorers with 17 counters.

Claussen was runnerup with 16 followed by Lee Nelson and Bob Rose with 15 and 13 points respectively.

Davis Fouls Out

Bob Davis, the big cog in the Bobcat machine, picked up four fouls in the first half which cut his efficiency to only nine points for the game. He finally bowed out early in the last period.

Lowe paced the Peru five in scoring with 18 while Ned Eckman collected six timely baskets and four free throws for 16 points.

The loss somewhat dimmed OU hopes for a berth in the Nebraska NAIA tournament. Wins over Wayne and Doane are mandatory if the Indians are to compete for the Kansas City meet.

Papooses Romp

All three Indian losses have been on the road while the OU home record remains unblemished. The 70-56 decision over Wayne is the only victory for Omaha on a foreign court.

Howard Baker and Don Hansen were standouts as Coach Darrell Mudra's Papooses galloped past the Peru "B" 61-39.

It was the fifth consecutive win for the junior varsity after dropping its opener to Foxleys.

Both Baker and Hansen suited up for the varsity contest with Hansen seeing brief action in the final period.

'Mural Record Book Proves Unbelievable

With the start of intramural basketball, several records will be under fire.

Pi Kappa Alpha is the defending champion of the 'mural basketball league, but will have plenty of opposition in this year's 19-team loop.

The cage league appears stronger this year than it has for a long time. Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Theta Chi rank as the early season favorites.

But the Pawnees, Blackhaws and ROTC teams could upset this prediction easily.

Sig Ep was working on some kind of a record against the Sioux last week, leading 29-0 at the half.

Record 88 points

Individual scoring title is held by Gene Heins, now in the service. Heins meshed 88 points in a 1950 tilt.

The team total record is held by Pi Kappa Alpha. Last season, they drubbed Phi Epsilon Pi 117-8 for the highest score on record.

During this bowling season, no one has been able to lift the single game record set by Len Topolski. In 1950, Topolski notched a 238 game. High individual series is

Trackmen Prep For Indoor Meet; Nalty Indefinite

Coach Ernie Gorr's indoor track team may swing into action without the presence of dashman Joe Nalty.

It has been reported that Nalty has quit school. This would be a hard blow to what appears to be the best track team OU has fielded in some time. Joe was to be the main cog in Gorr's plans.

Nalty Quits?

Nalty was OU's top runner in many departments. He holds the record in the 100-yard dash with a time of 9.8, and he was the leading man on the relay team and in the 220-yard dash.

At the present time about 12 men have been conditioning themselves for the coming season. Gorr stated that he is expecting a large turnout for this year.

The return of Jerry Tannahill, Larry Johnson, Bob Schropp and Roger Dunbier gives the OU team plenty of strength. All these men have earned letters.

Dunbier Improves

Roger Dunbier holds the indoor high jump record, and Coach Gorr stated that he thinks Roger will pick up many important points this year.

Larry Johnson seems to be showing great improvement with the shotput.

Coach Gorr says, "This year's team can shape up to be the best one OU fans have seen in a long time."

ISA Drops Two But Retains Lead

ISA dropped two out of three to Lambda Chi Thursday at 40 Bowl, but they still managed to hold the Intramural Bowling League lead by one game.

PKA proved to be too much for the Phi Ep's as they rolled to three straight victories.

The last place Sig Ep's pulled the big upset of the day. They dropped ROTC from third place by taking two out of three.

Turner Tefft was the high man in league play. He posted a high game of 204, and a high series of 512. He is proving to be the best bowler in the league, and his games have kept ISA on top.

Ten Champs Call For OU Mat Team

By Don Digillo

Why doesn't the University of Omaha have a wrestling team? Many OU wrestling fans are asking this question, and they aren't getting much of an answer.

Omaha U should have a team—they are loaded with talent. There are ten State, City, and Missouri Valley champions who have been discovered at the "U," and many other outstanding grapplers who are eager to start.

The problem seems to be a lack of money and interest. But, the two-year lapse in the mat sport has acted to create a vivid interest. This leaves us with the always present problem of money. All sports are expensive. But on the whole, wrestling would be one of the least expensive.

The mat sport is becoming more popular in colleges throughout the United States, and a rising college like Omaha University should not be without it.

OU could draw more athletes if they did have a team. Many outstanding athletes passed OU by this year because there was no team in wrestling.

Omaha University should not let the present talent and the future talent go to waste by cutting out one of the most exciting and interesting sports.

Let's give the bonebenders at OU a chance to show their ability.

594, set last season.

With the volleyball season not far off, ISA will be preparing to defend its title won last year.

Through all of this year's sports activities, teams will have one eye on the sweepstakes trophy given at the end of the year.

Intramural Cage Teams Enter Second Week

Papoose Cagers Hammer Milford

Omaha University's Papoose team journeyed to Milford, Nebr., last Wednesday to blast the Milford Trade School cagers, 72-46. This was the fourth victory for the B team and their first solo trip of the season.

Coach Darrell Mudra's charges got off to a fast start and were never headed for the duration of the game. Freshman Bill Grady found the basket and accounted for 15 counters to lead scoring for both sides.

Grady, a 6-foot, 5-inch product of Omaha North, is playing with the "B" team after spending some time with the varsity.

It was the largest score of the season for the Papoose team and Coach Mudra swept the bench in the landslide.

OUWI Girls Compete In Net Semi-Finals

Four doubles teams are entering the semi-finals of the Omaha University Women's Intramural badminton tournament. Single matches in the quarter-finals will be played this week.

Ruth Longville and Pat Cosford will play Marilyn Rogers and Jo Thorson. Honor Thorson and Janet Hanson will contest Bette Brereton and Virginia Stewart.

The OUWI basketball tournament games will open Feb. 15, in the women's physical education hut. Practice games will start Feb. 4. Attendance at practices is required in order to play in the tournament.

Marilyn Rogers is chairman of the basketball tournament.

Sig Eps, Theta Chis Stop Initial Opponents

Sigma Phi Epsilon and Theta Chi have posted the first victories in the intramural basketball league.

The Sig Ep's, who dominated intramural football, got off to a fast start in basketball Wednesday afternoon. They waltzed past the Sioux five, 46 to 12.

Strong Defense

They displayed a powerful defense, along with a fast offense. Lowell Zeplin was the big gun for the Sig Ep's. He scored 12 points, and proved to be very effective on rebounds.

Theta Chi's victory came easier than the Sig Ep's. They won on a forfeit from ISA.

Games Postponed

All other mural games for last week were postponed, and they will be made up at a future date.

A game between Phi Ep's and Pawnees will take place today at 3 p. m., in the Fieldhouse. P. E. Majors will play Otoes at 1 p. m., Jan. 14, and the Blackhaws will tangle with Lambda Chi at 2 p. m. On Jan. 15, Theta Chi will play Phi Ep's, and the ROTC will play the Sioux.

Track Call

Coach Ernie Gorr has issued a call for all indoor track candidates to attend the first weekly squad meeting Thursday, Jan. 18, at 2 p. m., in the Fieldhouse.

Anyone who cannot possibly be at the meeting in his office is to contact Gorr privately. The track team captain will be elected at this meeting.
